This wasn't our greatest year due to the weather, however, we did manage to net a profit.

Past Events:

There was an ice cream run at Brewsters on the West Side of town. This was a fun event for those who attended.

The July Noggin 'n Natter was held at Andino's in Greer. There were seventeen (17) people in attendance. The acoustics in the room provided were very bad and the service extremely slow. The food was mediocre. However, there were some interesting Andian items on the menu and those who ordered from that section seemed to enjoy. The Italian portion of the menu was typical "fast food" type Italian which was very over priced.
